Inspiring Travels

The past month the staff of WCCF went on a road trip not only visit on the grantees, but to see what everyone else in the surrounding areas are up to. The people never seize to amaze us and when we see how they get by from day to day we can't help but to want to do the same.

Along the way we were greeted by wide, open spaces, long winding roads, mountain ranges and the beach, which shape the West Coast, each with its own.

Here are some of the beautiful images we saw along the way.

The road trip formed part of the NGO assessments we are busy with as preparation for our Annual Conference set to take place from 17-18 November 2011. This year it will be different as we are inviting experts in the field to share their knowledge and to help build towards the sustainability of our NGO's.

The encouraging stories of our grantees will soon follow. They truly inspire us to give our best every single day.

MY SOUTH AFRICA

On Saturday 24 September the Republic of South Africa celebrated Heritage Day. It's one of the highlights to the calendar and rightfully so as the country is home to 50 million people, 11 official languages and a mix of racial groups that in the end can only compliment to our rainbow nation. The meaning of this day is to celebrate your cultural heritage & diversity of beliefs & traditions in the wider context of a nation that belongs to its entire people.

Let's build and thrive on working together to make South Africa alive with possibility!
